

I recently purchased XM Radio, and the service definitely ranks in my top 3 best purchases. I am a professional working in Houston, and I commute to work. Having the ability to listen to traffic is informative and helpful to me. Futhermore, I am an avid golfer and boater. Thus, the weather news is also helpful to me. I have an XM Roady, and have the ability to use XM on my boat. Being on the lake and knowing the weather conditions is great. Lastly, consumers like me pay for this service. Why should someone else get to decide how that service is provided or the content of the service. In conclusion, please reject the NAB's petition 04-160. Thank you.
